Tacos con huevos: roll them in your mouth.

When it comes to Philly food on the go, no one does it better than the many food trucks and stands located throughout the city. The recent explosion of mobile meals has made for some very happy tummies, and this Weekly's going to fill you in on the best of what the trucks have to offer!

You don't have to travel far for a Far East meal. Get a kick out of KoJa, a Korean/Japanese fusion truck stationed in University City. Bill M "marvels over a food truck that has the capability to deliver things like bulgogi and kimchee so quickly with a smile." Meanwhile, the brightly colored Korean bus Tyson Bees has Enid C buzzing over their pork buns. "The bread is pillowy and light, the sauce is succulent and not overpowering, and there is just the right amount of cilantro to keep it exciting." Bonus: "The staff does an adorable 'pork bun' cheer when you order it!"

Craving a Mexican-themed meal? Honest Tom's has you covered, regardless of the time of day. Teresa L "thrills" on "breakfast tacos" filled with "bacon, guac, scrambled eggs and crispy potatoes packed into a soft, warm tortilla." If tortas make you tingle, you'll go Taco Loco over the offerings that make Erik S's "all-time top sandwich list. Pork, tripe, chicken or chorizo... if it was clucking, mooing or squealing at one time, you can get it smothered in sour cream on a delicious salted bun." And "anyone who thinks it's a good idea to decorate an entire food truck in beer bottle caps is clearly after" Kaitlin L's heart. Filled with "Mexican treats," Guapos Tacos rolls out "short rib tacos" that make for "one delicious lunch."

After savory must come sweet, and Sugar Philly Truck is on a mission to cure that craving. Erin M digs the crème brûlée, which "the guy torches right there in front of you" as you wait and salivate. Cupcake connoisseurs are sure to crave "super moist" Sweet Box Cupcakes; Elanya M is confident in saying they are the "best in Philly, hands down." Finally, just follow the Twitter feed of Little Baby's Ice Cream to find out where they'll be scooping Vinny P's favorites, "bourbon bourbon vanilla and Earl Grey Sriracha." Prepare to enter the Twilight Zone – "when you taste this ice cream, your reality is altered." We'd gladly suffer a brain freeze for that!

The Inaugural Philadelphia Vendy Awards

On July 9th, some of the most delicious street food vendors in all of Philadelphia will join us at the Piazza at Schmidt's to compete for the ultimate honor in the land, The Vendy Cup. These fearless street chefs are nothing without their faithful eaters, and that is where you come in – come hungry, with friends and ready to have a delicious time. Tickets are available here, and proceeds will support The Food Trust, a non-profit organization that strives to make healthy food available to all.

"There is no better testament to the all out deliciousness of Magic Carpet than the variety of patrons.

Sure, the line can be long, but its a great time to get to know your Phellow Philadelphians. Students and surgeons, office dwellers, Union gents in coveralls and hardhats, young and old....."

Yohann S. on Bui's

"I skipped another session of gym today because of this. Went straight after work in early morning around 07:30.

Parked my car couple feet from the place. Get off from the car. Walked fast toward the food truck. Saw the menu. Did a little happy dance in my mind. :D

Number 5! THE Hangover Special. egg..."

Chris H. on Far From Home

"For my first outing I had the Euro (bacon, blue cheese, sauteed onions, lettuce, tomato, & might sauce) but with a veggie patty instead of the traditional beef. It was fantastic all around with thick slices of bacon, great sauce, plenty of blue crumbles, and the veggie patty itself was fantastic.
